

Railway corridor near city hall in 2000

Railway corridor near city hall after project completion in 2006

Proposed fencing and brick pillars along the railway corridor

Completed fencing and brick pillars

Creston participated in the Community Visioning Program in 2000. During the goal-setting process, the visioning steering committee decided that it wanted to focus some of its efforts on generating tourism by capitalizing on Creston's railroad heritage. The visioning design team created a concept plan for the site of the old roundhouse and east along the railway corridor.

In 2006, the City of Creston revisited the visioning concept plan and requested an additional proposal for a fence along the railway corridor from the Community Visioning Project team at Iowa State University. The proposed plan includes a series of brick pillars connected with wrought-iron fencing. The project was completed in 2006.

Railway Corridor

Creston, Iowa